

MODULE DESCRIPTIONS

ACADEMIC LITERACY

The purpose of the module is to introduce students to various elements of Academic Literacy, such as academic writing and reading. Teaching students how to write critically is developed through learning a variety of skills including effective referencing, reading and understanding academic texts, and successfully drafting an academic essay. They will also develop study skills and competence in using the library system.

AFRIKAANS FIRST ADDITIONAL LANGUAGE 1

The purpose of the module is to develop communicative language competency in Afrikaans. Language and grammar are central to the module and students improve these skills by learning about, and correctly applying these language and grammar elements to various formal and informal texts. Focusing on different genres, students engage with the texts to develop multiple skills; namely speaking, listening and critical understanding through the processes of reading, writing and discussion.

AFRIKAANS FIRST ADDITIONAL LANGUAGE FOR FOUNDATION PHASE 2

The purpose of the module is to equip students with the necessary skills enabling them to successfully work with an additional language in the Foundation Phase. It will empower students to teach with confidence and work meaningfully with a variety of texts in a way that will enhance their Foundation Phase teaching using the relevant Curriculum Assessment Policy Statement (CAPS) as well as CAPS related documents pertaining to the Programme and Promotion Requirements of the National Curriculum Statement Grades R-12.

AFRIKAANS HOME LANGUAGE 1

The purpose of this module is to give the student a good overview of Afrikaans as a subject, which includes the grammatical knowledge that they need as a teacher, through to analytical and critical thinking that they will gain through the study of a variety of texts. This module will empower the student to teach Afrikaans with confidence and to speak with clarity and meaning in a way that will enhance their Foundation Phase teaching. Grammar and language are common elements that are addressed across all units and by the end of the module the student will not only understand how language works, but they will also be able to produce written tasks that are accurate, clear and correct.

AFRIKAANS HOME LANGUAGE FOR FOUNDATION PHASE 2

The purpose of the module is to assist students to develop critical thinking whilst improving their language skills in the home language. This module will contribute to the development of a beginner teacher who has sound subject knowledge, highly developed language skills to teach their home language, proficiency in communicating effectively and are highly skilled communicators through the analysis of literature for children and adults, as well as the study of film.

ARTS EDUCATION 1: VISUAL

The purpose of this module is to develop design ability and present developmentally appropriate learning experiences for pre-primary, Grade R and Foundation Phase learners using a wide selection of materials and techniques to improve the creative expression in young learners. Emphasis is placed on teaching and learning in an interactive classroom where learners are encouraged to engage with two-dimensional and three-dimensional art activities in a creative manner.

ARTS EDUCATION 2: MUSIC AND MOVEMENT

The purpose of the module is to introduce students to music and movement so that they are equipped to teach the creative arts in the Foundation Phase. The module emphasises practical work which is used as a springboard to understanding music and movement concepts and elements and provides practical ideas for students to implement in Foundation Phase music and movement lessons. The module will contribute to the development of a beginner teacher who has a sound understanding of the content and basic principles of music and movement and how to teach music and movement to Foundation Phase learners, is knowledgeable about the music and movement school curriculum and is competent to assess learners in music and movement classes.

BEGINNING KNOWLEDGE

The purpose of the module is to develop concepts relating to Social Sciences, Natural Sciences and Technology in Foundation Phase learners. Fundamental core skills connected to these disciplines include conservation, cause and effect, the process of enquiry, the changing environment and the technological process. Emphasis is placed on teaching and learning in an interactive classroom where learners are encouraged to engage both with each other and the learning materials.

CURRICULUM DESIGN

The purpose of this module is to provide a solid foundation in curriculum knowledge for the Foundation Phase, curriculum development and curriculum design with the view to critically applying this knowledge to current South African practice. The underlying purpose is to motivate the developing teacher to play a formidable role as an agent of empowerment in the dynamic South African educational landscape.

EARLY CHILDHOOD DEVELOPMENT STUDIES

The purpose of this module is to develop students' knowledge and skills in teaching children from birth to five years using the South African National Curriculum Framework (NCF) for Children from Birth to Four as a springboard for planning, facilitating and assessing developmentally-appropriate teaching and learning activities in early childhood development centres.

EDUCATION AND DIVERSITY

South Africa is a diverse country which boasts a rich cultural and religious heritage. Teachers will encounter this diversity daily. The purpose of this module is to equip students with the knowledge, skills and values to address these issues. Furthermore, students will develop into knowledgeable, culturally aware and sensitive educators who in turn will be able to assist learners to develop an understanding of and respect for learners from different religious and cultural backgrounds and become informed and responsible citizens of South Africa.

EDUCATION THEORY AND PRACTICE

The purpose of this module is to develop a fundamental understanding of the Foundation Phase curriculum, the underlying principles of CAPS and CAPS related documents, pertaining to the Programme and Promotion Requirements of the National Curriculum Statement Grades R-12 and the ability to implement learning and teaching principles to ensure successful lesson planning and effective management of the learning environment.

EDUCATIONAL PSYCHOLOGY 1

The purpose of this module is to provide the students with a broad overview of Psychology as discipline and to introduce the schools of psychological thought related to the field of Educational Psychology. The student will examine several psychological theories in order to understand the developing child from a holistic perspective. The purpose is to enable the teacher to have a deeper understanding of the child's behaviour and to consider appropriate intervention strategies to facilitate a healthy sense of well-being in the child.

EDUCATIONAL PSYCHOLOGY 2

The purpose of this module is to build on students' prior learning in the field of Educational Psychology. Students will examine a number of theories in order to understand the theoretical underpinnings of memory and learning from a cognitive, constructivist and social constructivist perspective. Furthermore, the students will analyse a personality theory to extend their understanding of children's emotional development and how this plays a role in adulthood.

EDUCATOR AND THE LAW

The purpose of the module is to equip students with an understanding of the significance of Law in Education and provide them with the skills to apply the contents of statutes and regulations to the education environment. This module will contribute to the development of a beginner teacher who will understand diversity in the South African context in order to teach in a manner that includes all learners.

ENGLISH FIRST ADDITIONAL LANGUAGE 1

The purpose of the module is to develop communicative language competency in English. Language and grammar are central to the module and students improve these skills by learning about, and correctly applying these language and grammar elements to various formal and informal texts. Focusing on different genres, students engage with the texts to develop multiple skills; namely speaking, listening and critical understanding through the processes of reading, writing and discussion.

ENGLISH FIRST ADDITIONAL LANGUAGE FOR FOUNDATION PHASE 2

The purpose of the module is to equip students with the necessary skills enabling them to successfully work with an additional language in the Foundation Phase. It will empower students to teach with confidence and work meaningfully with a variety of texts in a way that will enhance their Foundation Phase teaching using the relevant Curriculum Assessment Policy Statement (CAPS) as well as CAPS related documents pertaining to the Programme and Promotion Requirements of the National Curriculum Statement Grades R-12.

ENGLISH HOME LANGUAGE 1

The purpose of the module is to give the student a sound overview of English as a subject, from the grammar knowledge they will need as a teacher to the analytical and critical thinking skills they will develop through the study of a variety of texts and the language used to construct them. Grammar and language are common elements that are addressed across all units and by the end of the module the student will not only understand how language works, but they will also be able to produce written tasks that are accurate, clear and correct.

This module will contribute to the development of a beginner teacher who has sound subject knowledge, highly developed language skills to teach their home language, proficiency in communicating effectively and are highly skilled communicators through the analysis of literature for children and adults, as well as the study of film.

GRADE R TEACHING

The purpose of the module is to introduce students to Grade R (the reception year) teaching and learning in the Foundation Phase using the relevant CAPS as well as CAPS related documents, pertaining to the Programme and Promotion Requirements of the National Curriculum Statement Grades R-12. The emphasis is placed on understanding the importance of the development and growth of the Grade R learner and understanding the concepts of learning and school readiness in preparing young learners for formal schooling.

INCLUSIVE EDUCATION 1

The purpose of the module is to challenge preconceived ideas regarding the traditional model and concepts of education for children experiencing barriers to learning through focus on Inclusion Policy on international and local fronts. Focusing on Human Rights and Social Justice within South Africa and directed by Education White Paper 6 (DBE, 2001), students utilise the social model to gain insight into factors that place learners at risk of experiencing barriers to learning in the South African classroom and context.

INCLUSIVE EDUCATION 2

The purpose of this module is to extend the student's understanding and application of inclusive principles in the South African classroom. Students examine a number of barriers to learning such as learning impairments, socio-economic barriers, children who exhibit challenging behaviours, autism spectrum disorders, and teacher burn-out as a barrier to learning. The module aims to enable students to informally and formally screen, identify and assess barriers to learning and learning support needs and then to design appropriate inclusion support plans, including curriculum differentiation, in order to minimise the impact of barriers, optimise learning, and maximise children's learning potential.

INFORMATION AND COMMUNICATION TECHNOLOGY FOR EDUCATION

The purpose of this module is to integrate the use of technology into teaching and learning and is tailored to suit the demands of the digital age. The module will develop a student's confidence and proficiency in using the computer and other technologies, smart boards, e-books; the Internet and the World Wide Web. Students will acquire the essential skills to adopt and adapt teaching technology that is required by the 21st Century media generation. The module aims to develop in-depth understanding of the computer and related technologies as learning and teaching tools.

INSTITUTIONAL TEACHING PRACTICE 4

The purpose of this module is to equip final year students with the knowledge, skills and values needed to make a meaningful contribution to the teaching profession. They share good practice observed during school-based practicum and cultivate a practical understanding of teaching and learning in a diverse range of South African schools. Students are guided and prepared for the world of the beginner teacher by exposing them to policies that relate to the profession. The aim of the module is to develop a novice teacher identity.

INTRODUCTION TO RESEARCH

This module uses a generic structure for learning the language of research within the context of the different subject-fields and worlds of work. The purpose of this module is to provide a generic, standardised, high-quality framework within which STADIO NQF level 7 students are introduced to the craft of research applicable to their field of knowledge and world of work. Within the context of relevant subject-fields and worlds of work, this module introduces students to typical instances of knowledge, guides them to formulate knowledge questions, exposes them to relevant exemplars of research outputs and research designs for solving relevant knowledge problems. Finally, the module guides them to draft an elementary proposal for a research project.
