MASTER OF POLICING PRACTICES

NQF 9 | 180 CREDITS | SAQA ID: 117868 | MIN. 2 YEARS

MODE OF DELIVERY: DISTANCE LEARNING

DESCRIPTION

The Master of Policing Practices programme equips the student with the skills and competencies to formulate, , design, conduct and complete a research project in the field of law enforcement. A student may fulfil the requirements of the qualification by completing EITHER: a full research based dissertation OR four (4) modules and a dissertation

Option 1 - Master Of Policing Practices: Full Research
Dissertation

Option 2 - Master Of Policing Practices: Four (4) Modules
and a Short Dissertation

MODE OF DELIVERY - DISTANCE LEARNING (ONLINE DISTANCE)

The programme is offered in STADIO's Online Distance mode of delivery. STADIO's distance-learning programmes offer students excellent, quality education, without the requirement of having to attend compulsory venue-based classes. Distance-learning students study with flexibility wherever they are, on a study schedule that suits their circumstances.

Upon registration, distance-learning students receive access to STADIO's state-of-the-art learning management system (Canvas). Students have access to all learning materials on this platform, including a detailed plan for the semester/year indicating all the learning and assessment activities. Study material and any additional teaching resources will be available online. However, students may also request study guides in printed format, if preferred. Students will access, complete, and submit all formative assessment tasks (assignments and tests) online. Summative assessments will mostly be venue-based.

Distance-learning students may also join and participate in scheduled live lecturing sessions online, at critical points during the semester, to integrate concepts and ask questions.

These classes will be presented by either the lecturer or an external professional or industry specialist. Recordings of these sessions will be available online. The schedule for the online classes will be available on the learning management system at the start of the semester.

Students will always have access to a module Question and Answer forum, where they can ask questions on the material. The lecturer will respond to their queries in this forum or during the scheduled consultation engagements. All lecturers will have weekly online consultation meetings, where students can join to ask questions or to discuss aspects of the work.

Distance learning is suited to students who want to study from wherever they are, without having to attend classes in person at a venue. Other than the requirement to submit assessment tasks on time, distance learning offers the student flexibility to plan his/her own study schedule. This option is also ideal for working adults, mature learners, or for school-leavers who enjoy learning at their own pace, live distantly from STADIO's campuses, or who have other commitments to attend to during the day. Even though learning happens at a distance, the student still has access to expert lecturers, up-to-date study material and peer engagement via the virtual learning environment. Studying via distance learning is largely enabled through technology. You need access to a computer, as well as internet connectivity, to access and submit your assessments, and to join live sessions or watch recordings online.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

- a relevant postgraduate diploma; or
- a Bachelor Honours degree in the field of policing/criminal justice with a mark of:
Full Research Dissertation: 65% for Research
Modules + Short Dissertation: 55% for Research
(Intensive exposure to the various disciplines of management of at least five modules is required)

ONE-DAY INDUCTION SESSION

(COMPULSORY)

Students must attend a compulsory one-day induction session subsequent to registration of their proposal module. During the session, students will be guided through refining and finalising their research topic, developing their proposal, utilising techniques of data collection and writing of the dissertation.

STUDENT SUPPORT FOR DISTANCE LEARNING STUDENTS

Distance learning students have access to STADIO's student support services via the learning management system. Students can access a range of presentations and online support initiatives aimed at success and wellness. At the start of the semester, new students will be invited to join the online student orientation programme to familiarise themselves with the services offered by STADIO.

STADIO, in partnership with SADAG, has a dedicated STADIO student helpline providing students with free telephonic counselling, information, referrals, and support. Students will also have access to general counselling services.

SPECIFIC REQUIREMENTS

MINIMUM SYSTEM REQUIREMENTS:

- Wi-Fi: Reliable broadband Internet access (Wi-Fi is available on all of our campuses, but you may prefer access from home as well).
- Web browser: Chrome/Safari/Opera/FireFox.
- Computer/Laptop: A current Windows or Apple Mac computer/laptop capable of running the Office 365 software (STADIO provides the software to you as a STADIO student). Office 365 includes Word, Excel, PowerPoint and Outlook.

MODULE DESCRIPTIONS

COMPARATIVE POLICING

TOPIC 1: Community Policing Models: A Comparative Analysis of Strategies and Outcomes.

This topic involves a comparative analysis of community policing models implemented in different law enforcement environments. It examines the strategies, principles, and practices of community policing in various countries or regions, such as the United States, United Kingdom, and Canada. The research can assess the effectiveness of different approaches in building trust, reducing crime, improving police-community relations, and enhancing public safety. It can also explore the contextual factors that influence the success or challenges of implementing community policing in different cultural, social, and political contexts.

TOPIC 2: Use of Force Policies and Practices: A Cross-Cultural Comparison

This topic focuses on comparing the use of force policies and practices across different law enforcement agencies or countries. It examines the legal frameworks, guidelines, and training protocols governing the use of force by police officers. The research can investigate how cultural, legal, and social factors influence the interpretation and implementation of use of force policies in various jurisdictions. It can also explore the impact of these policies on police-community relations, accountability, and public trust. Additionally, the research can assess the effectiveness of de-escalation techniques and alternative approaches to reducing the use of force in different law enforcement contexts.

TOPIC 3: Police Accountability Mechanisms: A Comparative Study of Oversight Models

This topic involves a comparative study of police accountability mechanisms in different law enforcement environments. It explores the oversight structures, such as internal affairs units, civilian review boards, and independent commissions, established to ensure police accountability. The research can examine the strengths and weaknesses of different oversight models and their impact on transparency, integrity, and public trust. It can also analyze the challenges and best practices associated with investigating and addressing police misconduct, including the role of technology, data collection, and external oversight bodies. Additionally, the research can explore the cultural and institutional factors that influence the effectiveness of police accountability mechanisms in different jurisdictions.

LAW ENFORCEMENT POLICING

TOPIC 1: The influence of ethics on leadership power and the moral integrity of leaders in law enforcement.

Ethics influence the exercise of leadership power in law enforcement. Leadership power, in this context, is closely linked with ethical considerations as it defines how leaders utilize their authority and influence. Ethical leadership involves adhering to moral principles, even in the face of power.

Sub-topics

- 1) Utilising power to cultivate an ethical workplace.
- 2) Challenges and complexities faced by police (law enforcement) leaders in pursuit of ethical leadership.
- 3) Strategies and efforts that police managers can develop to create an ethical workplace.

TOPIC 2: The role of technology and innovation in law enforcement

This topic investigates the impacts and implications of technology and innovation on law enforcement practices. It explores emerging technologies, such as body-worn cameras, facial recognition, drones, and artificial intelligence, and their influence on policing strategies, crime prevention, and public safety. The research can assess the benefits and risks associated with technology adoption, including concerns related to privacy, data security, and biases. It can also analyze the organizational and cultural factors that influence the successful implementation of technology-driven initiatives in law enforcement agencies and evaluate the ethical considerations that arise from the use of advanced technologies.

Subtopics

- 1) Enabling law enforcement operations through technology and innovation.
- 2) The use of technology to enhance police-community relations.
- 3) Enhanced leadership and management through technology and innovation.

STRATEGIC ORGANISATIONAL DEVELOPMENT

TOPIC 1: Leadership Styles and Employee Motivation in Policing Organizations

This topic focuses on exploring different leadership styles and their impact on employee motivation within policing organizations. It delves into the various leadership approaches, such as transformational, transactional, and servant leadership, and examines how these styles influence employee engagement, job satisfaction, and performance in a policing environment. The research can investigate the effectiveness of different leadership styles in enhancing employee motivation and overall organizational outcomes in the context of law enforcement.

TOPIC 2: Stress and Burnout among Police Officers: Causes, Consequences, and Coping Mechanisms

This topic delves into the causes, consequences, and coping mechanisms related to stress and burnout among police officers. It explores the unique stressors faced by law enforcement personnel, including exposure to trauma, long working hours, organizational culture, and public scrutiny. The research can examine the impact of stress and burnout on officers' mental health, job performance, and overall well-being. Additionally, it can explore the effectiveness of various coping strategies, such as social support, resilience training, and work-life balance programs, in mitigating stress and preventing burnout in policing organizations.

TOPIC 3: Diversity and Inclusion in Policing: Challenges and Strategies for Building a Representative and Equitable Workforce.

This topic focuses on understanding the challenges and strategies associated with fostering diversity and inclusion in policing organizations. It examines the benefits of a diverse and inclusive workforce, including improved community relations, enhanced problem-solving, and increased trust. The research can explore the barriers and biases that hinder diversity and inclusion in law enforcement, such as recruitment practices, organizational culture, and unconscious biases. Furthermore, it can investigate effective strategies and interventions, such as diversity training, mentoring programs, and inclusive leadership, to promote equality and diversity within policing organizations.

STRATEGIC LEADERSHIP (ETHICAL POLICING)

TOPIC 1: Ethical leadership in policing: promoting integrity and accountability.

This topic focuses on exploring the role of ethical leadership in fostering integrity and accountability within policing organizations. It delves into the principles and values that guide ethical decision-making and behavior in law enforcement, such as honesty, fairness, and respect for human rights. This requires law enforcement leaders that are strategic, are conscious of changes in the macro-environment and can envision the future of their organization.

Subtopics

- 1) Visionary leadership in a rapidly changing law enforcement environment.
- 2) Transformational leadership and organizational change.
- 3) Ethical policing through community engagement.
- 4) The role of society in creating ethical leaders in law enforcement.
